Dance troupe ready for a sold-out Champagne Lunch and Fashion Show

By Breven Honda

In the last two years, the Mesquite Toes Dance Troupe Champagne Lunch and Fashion Show has sold out and this year appears to be no different.

"We're expecting that this year, and, of course, certainly hoping so," said Norma Rife, the director for the Mesquite Toes Dance Troupe. "The reputation, I think, has helped and it's becoming quite a fun event."

The festivities on Sept. 30 begin at 11 a.m. and run until 2 p.m. at 1880 Grille at Conestoga Golf Course off Falcon Ridge Parkway.

The theme for this year's event is "Gotta Dance" from Gene Kelly's "Singing In the Rain."

Some of the entertainment includes the Troupe's Tap Team dancing to "Tap Your Troubles Away" followed by local entertainer, Cary Phillip, singing some songs from that era, including, "Stepping Out With My Baby" and "Cheek to Cheek."

That will lead to lunch and the fashion show.

The fashion show will feature nearly two dozen different fashions to highlight the day's events.

"It gets better and better every year," Rife said. "The merchants are so fun to work with, and they actually look forward to it each year. We have eight local merchants now and we have both male and female models. We will showcase over 20 different fashions, from dressing and casual ensembles. We always are the first to show the new fall line of golf attire from Falcon Ridge. So, I think we'll have a little bit for everybody."

Rife said the fashion show is her favorite part due to the excitement and the reward after all the planning.

"It's been surprisingly fun for me only because there's so much work that goes into it, that by the time the show comes around, I'm like so many other people," said Rife, who's been part of the planning process for the last three years. "I'm excited, have nervous energy and very tired. Then when the show itself comes on, it's so much fun that I forget about all the hard work."

The fashion show is complimented by raffle and door prizes for those in attendance.

Prizes range from baskets to leisure activities to ensure everyone wins something and not leave empty-handed.

"We will have a golf and dining package, we'll have spa, we'll have massage and pedicure certificates," Rife said. "We always have wines in our baskets, restaurant gift cards, flowers, candy, car care packages. We also give away door prizes so everybody can go home with something. We'll have a take home gift for everyone, too."

Those who want tickets can contact Bernie at (541) 905-6194. People can also reserve tables for six or eight guests as well if they want to go in a group.

Tickets can also be purchased at the Mesquite Fine Arts Center or from any Mesquite Toes Dance Troupe member. The Mesquite Fine Arts Center is closed on Mondays and Tuesdays.

VVHS volleyball striving with youth in 2025-26

By Breven Honda

The fall 2025 high school athletics season is under way and the Virgin Valley High School girls volleyball team is excited to begin the new year.

The Bulldogs are coming off a strong season where they went 26-9 overall and finished second in the 3A South-Desert standings. However, their season came to an end in the league semifinals, losing to the eventual 3A State Champions, The Meadows School.

Head coach Kortney Tobler said her team could not wait for the season to begin coming off a successful season, looking to make a deeper postseason run.

"We were really strong last year. We had a good team, and we couldn't quite pull it off at the end, but we were so close," said Tobler, who is coaching her third season of girls volleyball at Virgin Valley. "It's been fun because it feels a lot like we are picking up where we left off last year, like right into it with same skill level, and getting better every day."

"We're coming in with a really good mindset, just feeling confident and strong. We know we can be contenders this year."

This year's Virgin Valley volleyball squad is filled with two seniors and two juniors while the rest of the team are sophomores and freshmen.

Senior Hayden Owsley led the team with 201 kills last year, which ranked fourth in the league. The second senior is Julia Leavitt, who was third on the team and sixth in the league with 143 kills a season ago.

"We're definitely looking at those two to be our leaders in terms of hitting, offense and blocking," Tobler said of Owsley and Leavitt. "They are really strong players, really smart athletes."

"These kids have been playing varsity ball for a long time. They play three sports, so they're super talented and they definitely bring a level of experience and knowledge to the game that for sure influences our team in a good way."

Outside of juniors Mahtie Multalo and Mady Wright, Leavitt and Owsley are tasked with leading the roster that has five sophomores and two freshmen.

"There's no question that those seniors are huge, just being able to reinforce the culture and teach the younger kids what it looks like be on a varsity team, and the expectations that we have," Tobler said. "A lot of that's going to come from them, when they're holding their team accountable and being able to lead by example and take those girls under their wings."

"The best part is that they were those younger girls. Those two were doing that when they were freshmen and they were taught by seniors. So, it is cool to see it come around for them to have the opportunity to take these young kids under their wings and show them how it goes."

As a result, the underclassmen have needed to take a big step forward to learn rather quickly what it takes to play at the varsity level for a team that wants to win late in October and into November.

Tobler said she has seen the adjustments her sophomores and freshmen

CasaBlanca to host 9th annual Super Run event

By Breven Honda

For car fans in Mesquite and all across the country, start your engines.

From Sept. 19-21, the CasaBlanca Resort & Casino is hosting its ninth annual Super Run event.

CasaBlanca Resort & Casino Assistant General Manager Christian Adderson said he cannot wait for this year's Super Run event to commence.

"This is a great annual event that we have each and every year," said Adderson, who has been the Assistant General Manager for five years. "We get around 700 cars that participate in the event.

"A true car fan is really going to enjoy the Super Run show because they're going to see just about everything at the show, and the best part is it's free to the public to attend, so we make it really easy for car fans to come and enjoy a great event with us."

The show begins from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Sept. 19 and 20. On the final day on Sept. 21, the event runs from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Those in attendance will see different generations of cars, including hot rods and muscle cars to custom builds and vintage rides from in-state places such as Las Vegas and all across the Western United States, including from nearby states such as Wyoming, Montana, Utah, Idaho and California.

As result, different generations of car fans come together for the weekend-long event.

"I think that's the other neat part. It brings the car culture all together," Adderson said. "Whether you like the classics or you like the newer cars, custom cars, it brings all those people together.

"And at the end of the day, they're car fans. It really boosts community with the car folks. But also, those folks are also equally willing to talk to the spectators about their cars and share the stories with them. To me, every time we have a car show like this, it grows the car culture and the car fans that come to the event."

And it is not only the adults that interact with one another.

Because this event is open to the public and family-friendly, kids and adults of all ages come together. As a result, Super Run has the chance to be the site of kids seeing their first vintage car.

"You see the older generation act like kids because of the nostalgia of seeing that car that they had in high school," said Adderson, who has been with the CasaBlanca Resort & Casino for 20 years. "Then you see the young kids and their eyes light up with these beautiful cars. Everyone's so welcoming to everybody that they want to show the kids the cars. They want to get them excited about cars and that car culture.

"I feel like every time we do these shows, it grows the audience of people. It may be that six-year-old's first time to a car show, and now they're going to go to a car show every year because it was so cool, and they got to see these beautiful cars to look at."

One of the great things about this event is that there are always new cars coming to the Super Run every year.

Having the new feeling to be wowed every year is what brings the crowds every year to the CasaBlanca as well as impact to the rest of Mesquite.

"When an event like this comes to the Casablanca, Mesquite as a whole takes over the whole town," Adderson said. "The CasaBlanca, the Virgin River become that nostalgic place with cars in them."

In addition to showcasing the cars, there will be different contests and activities throughout the weekend to engage the crowds.

Some of the competitions include a Burnout contest, Slow Drags and a Roaring Engine contest. As a result, there will be more than $15,000 in prizes to be handed out for different superlatives, voted on by the fans in attendance.

"We actually set up a burnout area, a slow drag area, or an engine area," Adderson said. "We have cement barriers all the way around, and safety is number one. We want people to come out, enjoy the event, but we also want them to know it's a safe environment for people to check out these events.

"We give away over 250 awards at the award ceremony (at the conclusion of the event). Best in the show is the top car. They get the most votes. But we also do a People's Choice Award where we want the public to be interactive with the event, so there's voting opportunities for the public while they're there. We do like, best Chrome, best flame job on a car, best engineering. There's so much that goes into these cars, and the engineering is fascinating."

As a result, the awards give fans the chance to interact with a car by choosing their favorite or even the one that has the best story, such as a comeback journey a car has taken to return to show form.

"Awards like that really pay off," Adderson said. "Car aficionados that know how tough that was to get that piece on that car or get that car back up to running and be able to show it off. So, all the awards are really fun and neat for the people to see."

As the event arrives next month, discussions have also already begun for next year's 10th anniversary of the Super Run.

"We definitely will be doing a big blow for 10 years," Adderson said. "The Mesquite Motor Mania event, we've been doing that event for 18 years now, and we always did some special stuff for the 10-year anniversary, the 15-year anniversary. We've already started some plans on the 10-year anniversary next year for Super Run, and we're excited to share that with the spectators and the participants."

have made while continuing to learn and play against top competition.

“For several of them, it’s like a big step,” she said. “Some freshmen coming in have not played at this speed or this level, and I’m just crazy impressed with them. They work really hard, and they’re coachable. So, that’s all we can ask for, and I think they’re doing an awesome job. Our sophomores is a pretty strong volleyball class. They have played quite a bit of volleyball in their lives, and they bring a good set of experience and strength as well.”

On Aug. 22-23, Virgin Valley played six games and went 3-3 in the process during a non-league weekend tournament, including winning its final two matches against Somerset Sky Pointe of Las Vegas and Layton Christian Academy of Utah.

Against Somerset, who plays one division higher than Virgin Valley in the 4A South, the Bulldogs were able to take down the Eagles in three sets, 2-1.

As Leavitt and Owsley combined for 15 of the team’s 20 kills, sophomore setter Mayzie Tobler recorded 10 assists, three kills, five service aces, eight digs and two blocks, nearly recording a double-double in assists and digs. Sophomore Kinley Hughes added four service aces and six digs as the Bulldogs won the first set 27-25 before claiming the third and final set 15-12.

After a four-set victory to Green Valley Christian on Aug. 25, Virgin Valley began 3A South League play two days later against Pahrump Valley.

Tobler is hoping that their non-league schedule has prepped them for a difficult road that lies ahead.

“We love the good games. We want to really challenge ourselves as much as we can in the preseason and any chance we get for tournaments,” she said. That kind of thing is so important for us to find tough opponents and see our weaknesses better, so that we can get better faster.”

Softball kicks off Mesquite Senior Games fall season

By Breven Honda

The first event of the fall season kicks off next month for the Mesquite Senior Games.

Men's softball begins the three-event slate, running from Oct. 4-14, based on the five age brackets.

Those playing in the 70-plus and the 60-plus age brackets is from Oct. 4-5. The 50-plus age bracket is from Oct. 6-7. The 65-plus and 74-plus age brackets is on Oct. 11-12. The 55-plus age bracket wraps up play on Oct. 13-14.

Through the end of August, Mesquite Senior Games President and softball event director Sandy Tudor said teams continue to register for the tournament.

"I talked to a couple people yesterday who said, 'Oh yeah, I need to get that done,'" Tudor said on Aug. 26. "So, I expect to have a full a full contingency of teams."

As a result, teams come from all over the western United States as the Mesquite Senior Games tournament also serves as a tune-up event for the Huntsman World Series Games in St. George, Utah, immediately following Tudor's tournament.

It has also reached a point where teams have it in on their calendars to come to this tournament every year.

"They love this tournament. They really do," Tudor said. "One of them told me they only go to Huntsman so they can come here first. I don't know if that was serious or not, but anyway, they do enjoy it very much. Mesquite is such a nice little town and a lot of them, even when they go to Huntsman, they'll stay here."

The Mesquite Senior Games offers a hotel discount code for those who come from out of town at both the CasaBlanca and Virgin River hotels, which can be found on the website at mesquiteseniorgames.org under the men's softball tab under events.

In addition to teams and players signing up, Tudor is also looking for volunteers to help out in the concession stands.

"We will be running the concession stands all of the days that we have games going," said Tudor, who expects it to be three- or four-hour shifts.

About one month after the beginning of the men's softball event, the second fall season event commences with the golf tournament at Coyote Willows on Nov. 5.

Registration is limited to 72 golfers and Tudor has already passed the halfway mark of players registered.

"I think we've got 40 (players) the last time I looked," Tudor said. "So, we'll promote it a little Tudor and Bowling event director Toni Gans have begun preparations, including making sure the website and Fusesport works properly before registrations open.

"Toni and I are doing testing on it right now," Tudor said. "When what we do is we let Fusesport know that we need to get it going, and they will put it in test mode. So, we're the only two that can go in and do anything in there. We go in and we put in all kinds of people and we have them overpay and underpay and try to register in the wrong age group.

"We try to mess it up as much as we can. It's kind of fun. We get men to register for women and all more. I'll get it in our Facebook page and make sure that all the places here in town have our flyer."

More info on the golf tournament will appear in the October issue of the Mesquite Monthly.

Preparations have also begun for the third and final event of the fall season: the Holiday Bowling Tournament.

The event is scheduled for Dec. 6 at the Virgin River Hotel and Casino Bowling Center with check-in beginning at 9 a.m. and competition beginning at 10 a.m.

kinds of things to see what the system will do and to make sure that it won't let them do something like that."

As a result, registration as well as the theme for bowling will be announced in the coming months.

In last month's issue, Tudor was looking for new board members and volunteers to contribute to the logistical planning process for the Mesquite Senior Games events. So far, Tudor has heard from two individuals about being a board member and is always looking for people to reach out and help.

One of the new things in 2025 for the Mesquite Senior Games has been the rollout of the new website in January ahead of the spring season for people to register for those events.

Over the last few months, the website has continued to evolve while everyone adapts to the new website.

Tudor said those adjustments have gone well over the last eight months and there have been some more straightforward processes.

"Once registrations got going (from the spring), then we were able to go in and clean it up," she said. "It's much easier to upload pictures. For all of our spring events, the pictures are posted on the website. You click on bowling, and it'll take you to the bowling, not only the information about bowling, but you can click on the photo gallery and see the current year pictures, and I believe a couple of previous years, along with the results.

"It's much easier for me to post everything on the new website. The other one was pretty cumbersome as an administrator."

On another note, Tudor talked to someone from a non-profit at Sun City and inquired about potentially adding volleyball to the schedule, whether it is in the spring or in the fall.

As a result, it brings up the idea of sports or activities that are not already part of a respective season, such as volleyball.

Tudor said she welcomes any suggestions or inquiries about new sports to potentially add to a future season. If there is something, they can reach out to Tudor or another board member or contact them via the Mesquite Senior Games website.

One example of an added sport over the last few years is pickleball, which was initiated as a result of its popularity during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Whether a sport like volleyball or another activity arises, it has the potential to attract a new group of people to the Mesquite Senior Games with local venues in mind.

"If we found a group of people interested in a new sport, and different people that play golf or bowl or whatever, that would be a whole new section of the community that we could market to.

"I know that the old Rising Star Resort has reopened as a Holiday Inn Resort, and I know for a fact that they're going to be having club volleyball there. They've got the ability to have eight courts in there, and they've got the equipment. If we found a bunch of people interested in volleyball – and Huntsman also does volleyball – we could add it as a sport. Or, if there's something else that they wanted to add, we could do that."

The Huntsman World Senior Games holds their volleyball event for both men and women in October in St. George, Utah. As a result, if the Mesquite Senior Games adds a sport such as volleyball, it would probably be a fall sport if it wants to also attract the Huntsman crowd, like it does for men's softball.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

My take on the U.S. economy in 2025: Steady vibes, but keep an eye out

By Ron Bird

As we approach the remainder of 2025, I would like to share my insights on the U.S. economy and discuss strategies to ensure your financial objectives remain on course. The economy is maintaining a steady trajectory, with projected growth of approximately 2.4%–2.5%. This is supported by consistent consumer spending and substantial business investments in innovative sectors such as artificial intelligence, automation, and infrastructure development. These advancements are fostering long-term productivity and economic resilience.

However, certain challenges warrant attention. Inflation continues to exceed the Federal Reserve's 2% target, despite recent interest rate reductions. Factors such as escalating energy prices and supply chain disruptions may sustain elevated costs, potentially impacting household budgets and corporate profitability. The Federal Reserve is anticipated to adjust its benchmark rate to 4.25%–4.50% by year-end, carefully balancing efforts to control inflation while supporting growth.

Additionally, uncertainties surrounding trade tariffs and the extensions of the 2017 Tax Cuts and Jobs Act are contributing to market volatility. Such developments can understandably create apprehension among investors.

In light of these factors, our recommendation is to maintain a diversified investment portfolio, allocating assets across equities, fixed income, and alternative investments to mitigate risks. This approach has proven effective in various market conditions. Following a review and rebalancing of your portfolio, you can increase your confidence in your financial security.

It is essential to prioritize long-term objectives over short-term market fluctuations. As I often emphasize, volatility is inherent in financial markets, but a well-structured plan provides stability. I encourage you to schedule a review of your portfolio to ensure it is optimally positioned for the opportunities and challenges ahead in 2025. We are committed to supporting you throughout this process.

An alarming lack of desperation for fellowship, communication

By Pastor Chris Wall

As I continue on in my journey of the Christian walk, I am alarmed by the lack of desperation I often feel for fellowship and communion with God.

Imagine for a moment that you were diagnosed with a terminal illness, and a medicine that would address all your maladies was set before you—you have access to it anytime you want, and all you must do is simply take it.

Such is the nature of prayer in light of the sickness I find within myself and those around me, namely, sin.

At any moment my heart desires, I could bow my head, close my eyes, and fall to my knees, crying out to God. And yet, so often, I neglect this.

Now, what is my excuse—time?
Pride?

Carelessness?

The truth is, it is probably some horrific combination of all three, along with various other things.

What we need so badly is seriousness in prayer. We need to find a place of quiet solace and spend deep, meditative time alone with the Lord—begging, pleading, that He would intervene.

That He would change our hearts. That He would make us right with Him.

That He would expose our sin and help us overcome it. That He would work in the hearts of friends and family. That He would restore marriages and heal homes.

We do all of this with the underlying reality that God will do what is best and most in accordance with His holy will—but we plead nonetheless.

I am challenged as I consider how the psalmist yearned for God: “As the deer pants for the water brooks, so my soul pants for You, O God. My soul thirsts for God, for the living God” (Psalm 42:1–2). Again, he writes, “O God, You are my God; I shall seek You earnestly; my soul thirsts for You, my flesh yearns for You, in a dry and weary land where there is no water” (Psalm 63:1). Such language confronts me and makes me ask: Does this reflect my heart, too?

I write this with deep conviction on my own behalf, for I fail as much as anyone in having appropriate passion in prayer and desperate pleading with God—that He would change my heart to be more aligned with His will and more conformed to the image of His Son, the Lord Jesus Christ.

I pray the Lord would grant us all the grace to find ourselves desperate and hungry for a greater passion and love for Him!
